

The High Aim of the Theosophical Society and Our Work Today

The Theosophical Society has been in continuous existence since 1875. The influence of Theosophy has been pervasive in art, music, architecture, popular culture and the New Age.

We may well ask, however, what should the work of the Theosophical Society be today, what should be prioritised, what would be most useful now?

To answer such questions intelligently and with respect to the tradition it may be useful to understand the original teachings, of which modern Theosophy is an expression

Dara Tatray presenting the talk holds a PhD in the History and Philosophy of Science (UNSW 2006) and has been a student of Theosophy and Vedānta since 1979. A past President of the Australian Section, she is currently the National Secretary of the TS in Australia
